They Said...

They said I couldn't do it...

They said it would never happen...

They said I was wasting my time...

Listen, if you have never read an entire article on this site, PLEASE TAKE 5 minutes out of your life and read this through.

THIS MAY CHANGE YOUR LIFE!

Have you ever heard someone say; "Well, they said....", or "They told me...", or "THEY say it's....", or "They said I couldn't..."

Yep, I hear it all the time;
They say this & They say that...

I get emails all the time about what "THEY" say.

Whether it's about what They are saying in regard to being a surgical tech or what They are saying about becoming a first assistant or what They are saying about just about anything you can think of.

The other day I received an email from a potential student who told me about the people he spoke to in regard to being a surgical tech.

Apparently They said good things and They said bad things to this potential student.

Apparently the people this person spoke to consisted of two individuals, one who had negative things to say about being a surgical tech and one who had positive things to say about being a surgical tech.

Apparently THEY were having an affect on this person and he wasn't sure what to do....

I get emails all the time in regard to becoming a first assistant and very often THEY have told the person that you can't be a first assistant unless you are a nurse, or you can't be a first assistant because you wouldn't be recognized.

I get emails from people in regard to going to surgical tech school and once again, very often, They have told potential students things that simply aren't true...

It's amazing how THEY can stop one from doing what THEY are not doing~

It's amazing how THEY are often telling you what THEY told them~

It's amazing how THEY seem to know everything about keeping YOU from moving forward~

WOW!!!

The power THEY have is simply amazing & often overpowering.

Listen to me here, please...

There were times in my life when THEY would say something to me based on what THEY heard & the next thing you know I would not move forward.

If I had spent my life in the surgical world listening to what THEY said, then I'd probably never have reached the professional level I've attained.

Believe me, I speak from experience and have missed opportunities in my professional career because of what THEY said...

Imagine if Doctor Michael DeBaKey listened to what THEY said about heart-bypass procedures....

Imagine if Robotic Surgery didn't exist because of what THEY had to say about the craziness of robots in surgery...

Imagine if the Wright Brothers (the pioneers of flight) had listened to what THEY were saying about the crazy ideas about airplanes...

Imagine if Thomas Edison gave up on the light bulb because THEY said it would never work...

And the list could go on and on.....

The power of what THEY are telling you can stop you from being the Great Success you are meant to be!

If you truly want to be successful in the surgical world, or even in life, stop listening to what THEY are saying and start following your dreams, desires, & passions.

Now, I'm not saying to jump into this field without doing your research and making sure its a good fit for you.

You have to do some research, set up a plan, set some goals, and move forward.

What I am saying is that THEY will often have something to say that will stop you in your tracks.

The thing is THEY are usually only telling you what THEY have heard...

AND very often "THEY" are simply just not right...

Get the facts before THEY put up a road block on your road to success.

If you want to really get excited about a career in surgery, take a look at the last article I published here:

We all have ONE LIFE and this is not a practice run.

What life are you waiting for to move forward...?

Know it, believe it, and be the best at it!

Until next time...
